

GOSPEL SHAPED WORK

An eight-week exploration of how the gospel applies to our everyday working lives.

The gospel is for all of life. But too many of us have learned to seal off our faith from our daily occupation. Mentally, we put our faith and our work in different boxes. But the Bible story speaks into every aspect of how we spend our time—not just on Sundays, but on Mondays as well.

Over eight weeks we will explore the Bible's big story of creation, fall, redemption and the world to come. And we will see how it changes the way we should view our work—and how we can serve Christ in and through our daily occupations.
